Our Mission

Where are our target markets?	We develop solutions for customers in retail and manufacturing all over the world. These solutions are based on our longstanding tradition in fresh food. However, our technologies are also geared towards other sectors.
What is our own contribution?	We are a family-owned company. We have been shaping our markets with pioneering innovations in hardware, software and services for many decades. We also set standards in the areas of weighing, slicing, labeling, control and inspection. Our customers benefit from our integrated offering of professional consultancy and other services.
How do we set ourselves apart from the competition?	The unparalleled precision, safety and reliability of our products offer our customers the highest value and investment protection. We regard ourselves as technology leaders. When developing our tailor-made solutions, we are always guided by the objective of optimizing our customers' entire process chain and improving their efficiency.
What is our internal mission?	Our objective is to maintain our financial independence through long-term and profitable growth. We strive for exceptional customer satisfaction. Our employees are open-minded and actively represent our company values, which have evolved over the course of five generations.
